

lyrics brochure

Silence

Here we go again.

Silence is my penance
to be fought in vain.

Distance forms all sorts of bits
my heart will leave behind.

There's nothing to be afraid
as time will fix
the sorrow that I suffer in my veins.

Time. I have plenty of time.

To go out in the rain
and see for myself
the sound and tones
floating in the air.
Voices of candy
filling all the souls.

Whilst you are bewitched by your pain
the world outside is vibrant without you,
with myself, without you.

I listen to the colours
that fill the air today.

Here we go again,
drowning in your pain.

Drowning in your sorrow
which is your biggest lie.

I live a tomorrow
not dragged by your lies.

It's time to say good bye.

Good bye.

